In the Glendale subdivision, strateically placed on the north side of the city of Red Deer, and dating back to the early 1980s, several styles of semi-detached homes, a.k.a duplexs, were built. Only a few had the class, style, the fireplace, and the floor plan appeal this home on Gordon street possess. A slightly bigger floor plan with main floor entrance, concret patio, balcony, seperate walk out, walk in basement entrance, and a 14' x 22' attached garage was considered a fancy-schmancy alternative to purchasing a single detached home. You can benefit from the full developement with 3 bedrooms on the main floor that is very accomodating and two huge bedrooms in the basement are an added plus, plus. Very clean and very tidy tenants even adds a bigger value you can benefit from if you need a sweet return on investing in yourself and your real estate holdings. Exterior features include cement patio near basement entrance, a wonerful deck on the main floor off the diningroom area, a simple, blush, well maintained lawn runs a little west and a little south, again so you can benefit from basking. NO back alley, a huge benefit, no dust, no fuss, no traffic, only peace, quiet, and possibly a new path to Zen. Owner selling as is, where is, with no warranty due to the fact owner is out of province.
