7 acres in Clearwater County with the potential to be a nice hobby acreage. The older home has one bedroom in the front next to the entry way and a second on the main level with two more potential bedrooms upstairs, although they are not included in overall square footage due to ceiling height. There is a poured concrete foundation with extra living space in the basement, storage area and a cold room. The acreage has some perimeter and cross fencing and there are a few older storage sheds. The furniture in the house can go with the sale.
