Inside, the remodeled kitchen features wood-grain cabinetry, upgraded finishes, and a functional connection to the formal dining room for effortless hosting. Two distinct family areas allow for both gathering and quiet moments. The great room rises to vaulted ceilings and is anchored by a wood burning stove, setting the stage for evenings spent tucked in with good company. A second wood burning stove adds warmth throughout the main level. With four bedrooms and two and a half baths, the layout supports both everyday living and extended stays. The loft level is home to the private primary suite and ensuite, offering a quiet place to wind down. Main floor laundry brings convenience to daily life. Beyond the home, the property is thoughtfully equipped. A heated 47 by 30 quonset houses a well fed 1,250-gallon water storage tank with UV purification, an incredible advantage for acreage living.
