Concrete high-rise offering 876 sq. ft. with a bright, open living and dining area, galley-style kitchen, and a large in-suite storage room that works well as pantry space or for extra gear. The south-facing balcony brings in strong natural light and looks out over the neighbourhood rather than directly into another tower. Both bedrooms are well-proportioned with proper closets and share a full 4-piece bathroom. The unit features updated vinyl flooring in the living room, dining area, kitchen, and foyer, along with refreshed paint, updated light fixtures, and a newer dishwasher. Parking is a titled underground stall, providing year-round convenience. Dorchester Square is a full-amenity building with a fitness room and racquet court on the main floor, along with a sauna, games and party rooms, bike storage, common laundry facilities with an adjoining outdoor terrace, and a landscaped courtyard with gazebo. A practical, low-maintenance option for inner-city living. Located in the heart of the Beltline, one of Calgary's most walkable inner-city communities, you are steps from groceries, coffee shops, restaurants, fitness studios, and transit. A short walk connects you to 17th Avenue, Barb Scott Park, Lougheed House, and downtown offices.
